6. Auditing a Course

A law student may audit a law school class. No credit is given or received for audited classes. The audit will be reflected on the student's transcript. Any student who wishes to audit a class and have his or her transcript reflect the audit must complete an audit request form. The completed form must contain the reasons for the request and must be approved by the instructor. The approval of the Dean is also required and such approval will not be granted as a matter of course.

Attendance will be required of auditors who wish their transcript to reflect the audit. Auditors and Faculty must certify to the Dean's office compliance with the attendance and other class requirements sometime subsequent to the last day of class but no later than the last day of finals week. Failure to do so will result in a withdrawal of the audit indication on the transcript.
